

GREEN

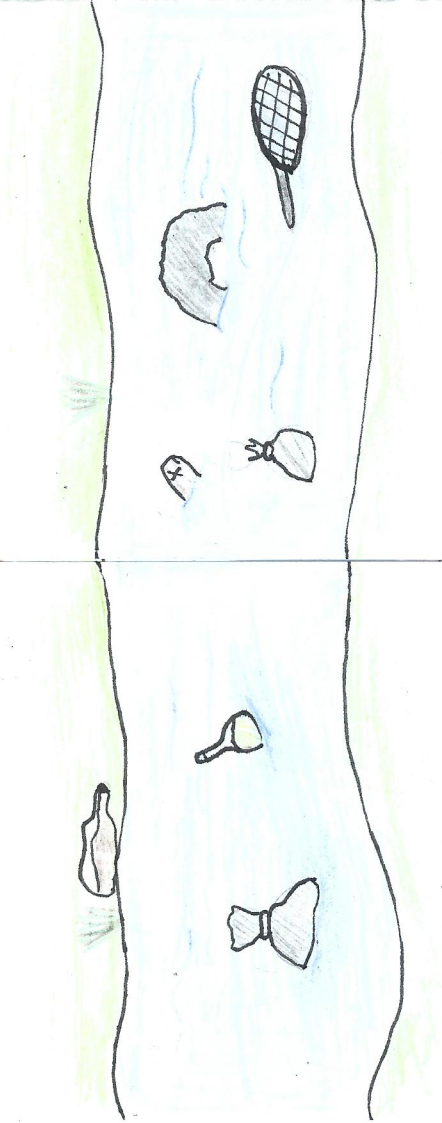

KAYAK

STOPPING POLLUTION

IS THE

ONLY

HOW?

You can borrow for free a kayak for 2 hours. And you have to collect trash.

The trash you collected will be weigh and you can post fotos with this hashtags: #greenkayak #saubereSachefürhamburg

Everybody knows that we use plastic everyday and the rivers are polluted with trash. Maybe somebody told you to help clearing the environment but you don't just want to collect trash but also have fun?

Then GREEN KAYAK is the right thing for you. The danish initiative helps to clean the environment.

All about GreenKajak

GreenKajak works to reduce the amount of garbage floating in our waters. The idea is simple, volunteers get free GreenKajak trips in return for collecting trash.

GreenKajak also shares knowledge and helps people of all ages to get out on our beautiful waters

and take action.

About us

The Danish Organisation Green Kayak is an organisation which collects trash out of the water. We give you a boat for two hours for free if you collect trash and post it on social media with the #greenkayak and for Hamburg also #sauberesacudfuerhamburg.

In the boats are two life jackets and two garbage grippers, a bucket, a map and an info flyer with tips, where to find garbage and where not to paddle. After the tour the trash is weighed and registered. We recommend you to do this adventure to help the environment.

Jens Kerstan, member of parliament:

"The concept of Green Vaux is impressively easy and good: You can borrow Vaux for free, collect trash out of the water and in the end the collected trash is weighed in kilogram. It's a way to connect free time, nature and participation perfect. It's a clean thing for Hamburg and a good add to the participation of others. I hope that many people from Hamburg use the deal."
